

My state's attorney general has informed me that you are considering weakening the laws covering telemarketing. I PAY EXTRA MONEY EVERY MONTH TO KEEP MY PHONE NUMBER UNPUBLISHED AND UNLISTED. I do this because I don't want unsolicited calls.

I specifically request the following:

DO NOT implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections.

I DO NOT want to receive telemarketing calls. Owning a phone is a right that I pay for, and as such I have a right to my privacy. The fact that I have a phone should not mean it's "open season" for telemarketers or sales people to contact me. We have received significantly fewer calls since this went into effect and frankly, I want to keep it that way.

As I see it, the FCC has a duty to protect the individual purchasers of telecommunication -- not just the businesses.
